

CENTRISTS ARE MAD

Bundesrath's Rejection of the Jesuit Law Has Stirred Them Up.

GERMAN PRECAUTIONS AGAINST CHOLERA

In Spite of the Precautionary Measures Six Cases Have Crossed the Frontier.

SOCIALIST BOYCOTT ON BEER STILL ON

North German Brewers Forming a League to Fight the Boycott.

ARMY EXPERIMENTS TO HAVE A TRIAL

Prince Bismarck Starts on a Visit to Count Herbert—Great Preparations to Receive Him in Berlin—Assaults on Capri Renewed.

(Copyrighted 1894 by the Associated Press.)
BERLIN, July 14.—Although the end of the theatrical season is near, several novelties are marking its close. For instance, Sarah Bernhardt, on Tuesday next, will produce at Daly's theater for the first time in London Dumas' "La Femme de Claude." But the recent production of Messager's opera, "Mirette," at the Savoy, was almost the final flicker of the theatrical season and managers are now busy making arrangements for their autumn provincial tours.
The Lyceum, Haymarket, Garrick, St. James and Court theaters will close very shortly.
J. M. Barrie and his bride (formerly Miss Mary Ansell of the "Walker-London" company) during the week attended the Comedy theater and saw for the first time the performance of "The Professor's Love Story," of which Barrie is the author. E. S. Willard as Professor Goodwin in "The Professor's Love Story" is doing much better and has extended his season until July 27.
The German opera season at Drury Lane has been noteworthy by the revival of Weber's "Der Freischutz," on Tuesday last, after an interval of ten years. Its success was so great that a repetition is announced.
Paderewski came from Paris Wednesday last especially to play at the opening of the new Salleard on Great Marlborough street. The brilliant invited audience included the duchess of Manchester, Mrs. Moreton Prewen, Mrs. Herbert Gardner, Mr. Carl Falten of Boston and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Stille and their daughters, Misses Rose and Ottilie, of Baltimore, and other American friends.
It has been decided that the Misses Suro are not to make their public appearance until autumn. In the meanwhile they have been playing privately and have attracted much attention from the highest musical circles in London. Paderewski, especially, was delighted with the playing of the young American girls and told Mr. Suro that his daughters played charmingly.
A distinguished pianist also wrote a note to Mrs. Suro saying: "Your daughters have played superbly, magnificently, and I congratulate you with all my heart."
The specialties of the Misses Suro is ensemble playing on two pianos, in which they excel and for which they have received the warmest praise from the critics at Berlin, where they remained five years under the tuition of Prof. Henry Barth, at the Royal Conservatory of Music.

MISS BOOTH RENTS A THEATER.
Miss Hope Booth, an American actress, has rented the Garrick theater and will open there on September 3.
Bernie Shaw's "Arms and the Man" was withdrawn from the Avenue last Saturday, and both Toole's and Terry's are advertised as "To Let," the former during Mr. Toole's provincial tour until Christmas, and the latter "for a few weeks only" pending the production early in the autumn of a two-act farce by W. Lestock and E. M. Robinson.

Tyrone Power's brief season at the Princess with "The Texan" was enlivened by the vagaries of the financier of the production, whose application to Clement Scott for an advance of $2,500 has already been recorded. When he found that "The Texan" would not be a monetary success this gentleman suddenly withdrew his support from Tyrone Power, and the young actor was consequently left in for a heavy loss. The latter made such a favorable impression by his performance, however, that he will probably not remain long out of an engagement, and indeed it is on the cards that he will go with Bernhardt to the forthcoming provincial tour of the Haymarket company.
Mr. Tree has not yet decided which plays he will select from his large repertoire when he visits America at the beginning of next year. He opens in New York on January 29 and will subsequently appear at Boston, Chicago and Philadelphia. The tour has been mapped out by Henry Abbey.

Mr. and Mrs. Kendall have arranged to leave England for the United States on September 5. It is not generally known that Mrs. Kendall enjoys the unique distinction of being a lady member of the Savage club. Upon the occasion of her election Sidney Grundy found an episode in the "Old Jew," which was produced at the Garrick theater some thirty years ago, in the best of Evans. Many years since, in the heyday of Evans, Mrs. Kendall, then better known as Madge Robertson, arranged a visit to the rooms with her husband and a party of friends, whom he was to meet there after the play. Somehow or other she entered the wrong building and opening a door in front of her found herself in the company of some fifty or sixty "Savages" all smoking vigorously. She was at once recognized by Thomas Robertson, and Sidney Grundy, and was invited to partake of the club's hospitality. On her departure she was elected a member of the Savages by acclamation, and since has had the privilege of using the club premises if ever she pleased. Needless to say, she has never exercised her prerogative.

A given party to meet Mrs. Rejane was given by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hornor in the pretty grounds of the Albany club at Kingston last Sunday. Everybody who is anybody in theatrical and Bohemian London was present.

OSCAR WILDE'S VAGARIES.
Oscar Wilde is pleased to continue to be interviewed by telegraph and relieve himself of sundry epigrammatic obiter dicta. Last week, people were recommended to read his books instead of the daily newspapers. This naturally called for some explanation and the following wire was sent to the author of "Dorian Gray":
"What is the difference between your books and newspapers?"
The question proved a poser to the maker of epigrams, who begged it thus:
"The difference between literature and journalism is that journalism is unreadable and literature is not read."

An hour later he was asked: "Is not the unread known through the unreadable?"
To this he replied:
"Of course, that is why the world has still to be civilized."
OSCAR WILDE.

Here the interview remains for the present. During Henry Irving's absence on a tour it is probable that Messrs. Abbey and Grau will run a season of comic opera at the Lyceum, with Lillian Russell as the chief attraction. No contract, however, has yet been signed, and it is quite uncertain in what play the talented American will make her debut in London. Should the negotiations now proceeding with Miss Russell be brought to a satisfactory issue and the play selected prove a success, Messrs. Abbey and Grau intend to send it to America with the original cast.

The great success scored by "Marriage" at the Court theater was not altogether anticipated by Mr. Brandon Thomas, its part author and producer. In fact, the main reason for its success was the fact that the play was not taken seriously.

Cholera in Poland.

VIENNA, July 14.—There have been forty-eight cases of cholera and fifteen deaths in the Cracow district, and eight cases and one death in Cracow itself during the last two days. Cracow has been hitherto exempt from cholera.

LONDON THEATRICAL SEASON.

Quiet Will Soon Reign at the Leading Play Houses.

(Copyrighted 1894 by the Associated Press.)
LONDON, July 14.—Although the end of the theatrical season is near, several novelties are marking its close. For instance, Sarah Bernhardt, on Tuesday next, will produce at Daly's theater for the first time in London Dumas' "La Femme de Claude." But the recent production of Messager's opera, "Mirette," at the Savoy, was almost the final flicker of the theatrical season and managers are now busy making arrangements for their autumn provincial tours.
The Lyceum, Haymarket, Garrick, St. James and Court theaters will close very shortly.
J. M. Barrie and his bride (formerly Miss Mary Ansell of the "Walker-London" company) during the week attended the Comedy theater and saw for the first time the performance of "The Professor's Love Story," of which Barrie is the author. E. S. Willard as Professor Goodwin in "The Professor's Love Story" is doing much better and has extended his season until July 27.
The German opera season at Drury Lane has been noteworthy by the revival of Weber's "Der Freischutz," on Tuesday last, after an interval of ten years. Its success was so great that a repetition is announced.
Paderewski came from Paris Wednesday last especially to play at the opening of the new Salleard on Great Marlborough street. The brilliant invited audience included the duchess of Manchester, Mrs. Moreton Prewen, Mrs. Herbert Gardner, Mr. Carl Falten of Boston and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Stille and their daughters, Misses Rose and Ottilie, of Baltimore, and other American friends.
It has been decided that the Misses Suro are not to make their public appearance until autumn. In the meanwhile they have been playing privately and have attracted much attention from the highest musical circles in London. Paderewski, especially, was delighted with the playing of the young American girls and told Mr. Suro that his daughters played charmingly.
A distinguished pianist also wrote a note to Mrs. Suro saying: "Your daughters have played superbly, magnificently, and I congratulate you with all my heart."
The specialties of the Misses Suro is ensemble playing on two pianos, in which they excel and for which they have received the warmest praise from the critics at Berlin, where they remained five years under the tuition of Prof. Henry Barth, at the Royal Conservatory of Music.

MISS BOOTH RENTS A THEATER.

Miss Hope Booth, an American actress, has rented the Garrick theater and will open there on September 3.
Bernie Shaw's "Arms and the Man" was withdrawn from the Avenue last Saturday, and both Toole's and Terry's are advertised as "To Let," the former during Mr. Toole's provincial tour until Christmas, and the latter "for a few weeks only" pending the production early in the autumn of a two-act farce by W. Lestock and E. M. Robinson.

Tyrone Power's brief season at the Princess with "The Texan" was enlivened by the vagaries of the financier of the production, whose application to Clement Scott for an advance of $2,500 has already been recorded. When he found that "The Texan" would not be a monetary success this gentleman suddenly withdrew his support from Tyrone Power, and the young actor was consequently left in for a heavy loss. The latter made such a favorable impression by his performance, however, that he will probably not remain long out of an engagement, and indeed it is on the cards that he will go with Bernhardt to the forthcoming provincial tour of the Haymarket company.
Mr. Tree has not yet decided which plays he will select from his large repertoire when he visits America at the beginning of next year. He opens in New York on January 29 and will subsequently appear at Boston, Chicago and Philadelphia. The tour has been mapped out by Henry Abbey.

Mr. and Mrs. Kendall have arranged to leave England for the United States on September 5. It is not generally known that Mrs. Kendall enjoys the unique distinction of being a lady member of the Savage club. Upon the occasion of her election Sidney Grundy found an episode in the "Old Jew," which was produced at the Garrick theater some thirty years ago, in the best of Evans. Many years since, in the heyday of Evans, Mrs. Kendall, then better known as Madge Robertson, arranged a visit to the rooms with her husband and a party of friends, whom he was to meet there after the play. Somehow or other she entered the wrong building and opening a door in front of her found herself in the company of some fifty or sixty "Savages" all smoking vigorously. She was at once recognized by Thomas Robertson, and Sidney Grundy, and was invited to partake of the club's hospitality. On her departure she was elected a member of the Savages by acclamation, and since has had the privilege of using the club premises if ever she pleased. Needless to say, she has never exercised her prerogative.

A given party to meet Mrs. Rejane was given by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hornor in the pretty grounds of the Albany club at Kingston last Sunday. Everybody who is anybody in theatrical and Bohemian London was present.

OSCAR WILDE'S VAGARIES.
Oscar Wilde is pleased to continue to be interviewed by telegraph and relieve himself of sundry epigrammatic obiter dicta. Last week, people were recommended to read his books instead of the daily newspapers. This naturally called for some explanation and the following wire was sent to the author of "Dorian Gray":
"What is the difference between your books and newspapers?"
The question proved a poser to the maker of epigrams, who begged it thus:
"The difference between literature and journalism is that journalism is unreadable and literature is not read."

An hour later he was asked: "Is not the unread known through the unreadable?"
To this he replied:
"Of course, that is why the world has still to be civilized."
OSCAR WILDE.

Here the interview remains for the present. During Henry Irving's absence on a tour it is probable that Messrs. Abbey and Grau will run a season of comic opera at the Lyceum, with Lillian Russell as the chief attraction. No contract, however, has yet been signed, and it is quite uncertain in what play the talented American will make her debut in London. Should the negotiations now proceeding with Miss Russell be brought to a satisfactory issue and the play selected prove a success, Messrs. Abbey and Grau intend to send it to America with the original cast.

The great success scored by "Marriage" at the Court theater was not altogether anticipated by Mr. Brandon Thomas, its part author and producer. In fact, the main reason for its success was the fact that the play was not taken seriously.

Cholera in Poland.

VIENNA, July 14.—There have been forty-eight cases of cholera and fifteen deaths in the Cracow district, and eight cases and one death in Cracow itself during the last two days. Cracow has been hitherto exempt from cholera.

KIND ACT MISJUDGED

Two American Missionaries to China Roughly Handled by a Mob.

VICTIMS OF CELESTIAL SUPERSTITION

Were Ministering to the Wants of a Chinaman Who Was Sick.

BOTH RESCUED BY THE CUSTOMS OFFICERS

Clothes Were Torn Off of Them and Both Dangled in Jail.

OUTBREAKS AGAINST FOREIGNERS FEARED

British Warship Has Anchored Up Against the Shore at Canton Prepared to Protect the Lives of White Residents.

VICTORIA, B. C., July 14.—Hong Kong papers arrived by the steamer Victoria chronicle a serious attack upon two ladies of the American Presbyterian mission at Canton on June 11, as the result of which it is stated one of the ladies may die. Miss Beemer and Miss Havestowne are the names of the unfortunate missionaries of mercy, whose mishap was solely due to their mistaken ministrations. They were walking in Honan in the afternoon and came across a Chinaman evidently in a dying condition by the side of the road. With tender care they raised him and procured a cup of tea, while one of the ladies applied smelling salts to the man's nostrils and comforted him with kind words. They so far revived the man as to enable him to walk a few yards with support, but while conveying him on a sapan, with the intention of placing him in a hospital, some Chinese who had gathered around, asked if anything had been administered to him by the "foreign women." When they learned that something had been done for the unfortunate man they suddenly made demonstrations of resentment, and unhappily at this moment the object of the ladies' attention expired. Instantly they were embroiled in a wordy altercation with the surrounding mob and in a moment or two the indignation of the crowd vented itself with brutal force. Miss Beemer escaped, naked and bleeding, after receiving a stab in the thigh. A friendly Chinaman's shop, but it looked like a desperate case for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took her, being wounded, to the hospital. If a motion for a writ of habeas corpus for Miss Havestowne, who, torn and wounded, was endeavoring to reach the customs station across a street. Fortunately, Mr. J. H. Barton, one of the officers at the station, observed her predicament, and hurrying to the scene was able to reach her, he took